Volunteer Bounty Tax.

To-morrow is the day for voting on the tax of $24,200 for volunteer purposes. We are not aware of any particular opposition to it.

Last Night's Report.

We received no report last night, and all we can find in the morning papers worthy of note is the fact that congress will adjourn the middle of the week for the holidays, and a report that the draft will be postponed for twenty days, the consideration of the commutation clause being in the meanwhile postponed until congress meets again in January. An expected opposition to the repeal of the commutation has arisen.

An attack has been made upon our outposts at Fort Gibson by a rebel force of 1,600, and the rebels repulsed.

The 3d Wisconsin cavalry had returned from a long reconnaissance, finding the enemy had changed their position, and skirmishing all the way back for a hundred miles. They cut their way through in some instances when intercepted, and evaded other rebel forces by taking blind mountain passes. Their loss was trifling, though they captured some prisoners, and among them the notorious Hendy Lane, who boasts of having killed over 100 Union citizens with his own hands.

Information has been received that Kirby Smith's force is preparing to attack Little Rock. The balance, anticipating that McNeill's force will be drawn away to reinforce Steele, are to fall on Fort Smith.

ENLISTMENTS IN WISCONSIN.—During the week ending Saturday, over 500 enlisted men left Camp Randall for the seat of war, and over 400 recruits lay at the camp waiting to be mustered in. Hearty and soldierly recruits are daily received from the recruiting parties in the various sections of the state.

Free institutions are making it way into the region of slavery. The new state of West Virginia has been divided by her legislature into townships, like other free states and unlike the slave states, which have no civil division below counties. She has adopted a comprehensive free school system. They say West Virginia is unconstitutional; but she don't act like it.

How THEY ARE PLACED.—The "democratic" representatives in congress from this state are thus located on the house committees: Mr. Brown, last on elections; Mr. Wheeler, last on committee for District of Columbia; Mr. Eldredge, sixth on revolutionary claims.

Attention is called to D. D. Wilson's advertisement, in special column, offering Knab & Co's pianos for sale.

"SOLDIERS OF THE BIBLE."—Mr. Sutherland sends us another book from his juvenile collection. In these days when a military spirit pervades the land, and our military chiefs are making their mark in history, a recurrence to the exploits of the men whom the "Lord of Hosts" or daunted to lead his people through their marvelous history will be both interesting and instructive. This little volume does this work in a manner calculated to rivet the attention of its readers. Published by Crosby & Nichols, New York, and for sale by Mr. Sutherland.

LADIES' FAIR.—The fair at the Myers' House to-morrow evening should be remembered and liberally encouraged. Much time and considerable expense has been gratuitously bestowed by the ladies who have prepared it, and the proceeds will be devoted to the best object which can appeal to the benevolence of our city.

A MISTAKE.—The telegraph yesterday told us that the President had acquitted Gen. Schofield of the charges against him in relation to cotton speculations. It was Gen. Curtis who has been thus acquitted, and he will be sent to take Ewing's place in the department of Kansas.

Ladies' Fair.

A fair will be held at the Myers' House, Wednesday Evening, Dec. 23d, in aid of families of soldiers and the poor of the city. A variety of useful articles have been prepared, which will then be offered for sale.

Music and refreshments will be provided. An admission fee of 10 cents will be charged, to keep out the crowd of unruly boys who sometimes intrude themselves into such places.

The citizens of Janesville are invited to attend and aid in the effort to give relief to those who need it.

By order of Committee.

A Pleasant Country.

The following may be seen in a private epitaph from a young man, formerly of this city, to his parents here. We publish it as illustrative of life in that section of the Southern Confederacy:

Benton, Ark., Nov. 22d.
MY DEAR PARENTS:—As you will notice from my date I have been on the wing again, and am now quietly ruralizing at this point, where I arrived last Wednesday evening. Benton is a city about as big as a pocket handkerchief, situated, lying and being twenty-five miles south of Little Rock on the Arkansas river, and is the outpost, there being no forces below this point, and is dull, oh how dull, you can have no conception, nothing in the world to break the monotony of eating and sleeping, except the constant liability to an attack, and that has been threatened so long that it generates no renewed excitement. Only when the pickets are fired upon, (which occurs almost nightly) the command turns out under arms. "Boots and saddles" when sounded, unexpected, and that has been threatened so long that it generates no renewed excitement. Only when the pickets are fired upon, (which occurs almost nightly) the command turns out under arms. "Boots and saddles" when sounded, unexpected,

My stay here, as well as in this section of the country, bids fair to be short. We have been advised, though not officially, that the department has been divided, and Capt. Clonry, late assistant superintendent of the department of the Missouri, ordered to Little Rock to assume control, and he is expected by every boat. This, upon his arrival, will relieve us from duty, as we belong to the department of Missouri. There are but three of us down here, and aside from the fact that we are all heartily sick of the miserable country, everything else is unpleasant. We are too far away from everything, hear nothing, know nothing of what is going on outside, and in six months time would degenerate into perfect specimens of —

It costs about three times as much to live here as it does in the city of St. Louis, so that in a pecuniary point of view we gained nothing by the change. Another item: We draw, or are supposed to draw, our pay at St. Louis, but having ahead of the arrival of funds, we have drawn no pay for three months, and can't stand the pressure. Last, but not least by any means, I, individually, am constantly suffering from the chills or remittent fever, which although it readily yields for the time being, since I left Helena, I have not been confined to my bed over a day at a time, yet is always on hand at the slightest provocation. If a person once gets that infernal malaria at Helena fairly into his system, he cannot escape himself in the slightest, get wet, take cold or strain his toe, but down on your back you go, ready for 10 or 12 grains blue mass and 30 or 40 of quinine before you get up; and there seems to be no permanent preventive while you stay in the country. I've got enough of it and propose to return to America where Christianity and creature comforts are supposed to prevail, but articles being very scarce, even to exclusion, down here. If I remain and accompany a forward movement Texas-ward, it may improve, and it may be worse, and I shall not chance it, but get back while I have a good opportunity and a valid excuse.

If Capt. Clonry brings any one with him that can relieve me, I hope to be off in the course of a couple of weeks; if he does not, I shall probably have to remain until some one can be ordered down from St. Louis to do so, which will take a month or six weeks. Do my letters reach you regularly, I have written you once every two weeks since leaving but have received but one from you, leaving a large margin in my favor.

Some females suspected of smuggling goods into Dixie were recently searched by the provost marshal of Memphis, Tennessee. One wore a bale of fine linen as a bustle. Her corset was filled with gold coin, quilted in, to the amount of $12,000. Another had her form rounded out with padding made of dress silks. Her hose were found to conceal a quantity of gentlemen's cravats, which were swathed carefully about her legs. The third lady's ample bust was filled out by a museum of articles, consisting mainly of jewelry, silk thread, needles and medicines.

The rebel secretary of the treasury proposes an immediate tax to raise $100,000,000. As there not more than 700,000 heads of families within the present limits of the confederacy, each must pay $3,715! This will prove a heavier burden than they can bear.

A couple in Eaton, New Hampshire, who have been married 65 years, have had no occasion during this time to call a physician on account of disease. They have had 11 children, and from 1827 to 1863 but one death occurred in the whole family.

The house of John Snyder, of Baltimore, was robbed of a safe containing $15,000, some days since. The safe was afterwards found two miles out from the city, with the door beaten in and the money gone.

A special committee in the Missouri legislature have reported in favor of appropriating $1,500 to disseminate the knowledge necessary to encourage emigration here from Germany and the British Islands.

The personal effects of J. A. Campbell, of Alabama, late judge of the United States supreme court, which had been seized and condemned under the provisions of the confiscation act, were sold at auction on Thursday at his late residence in Washington. The sum of $3,300 was realized from the sale.

SALT IN KANSAS.—There is a salt well at Oasawatomie in Kansas, 122 feet deep and salt water rises to within 21 feet of the surface. Seven bushels of salt per day are made with the machinery at present at work.

The people of the north, within seven months, have subscribed and paid for, at par, $30,000,000 of six per cent. bonds. Trustee Polk, formerly United States senator from Missouri, and now a rebel prisoner at Johnson's Island, on account of severe illness has been paroled, so as to allow of his remaining in Sandusky until he recovers.

Nevada is said to be the richest silver bearing country in the world. Its product this year will be $15,000,000.

To-Day's Report.

(Reported Exclusively for the Daily Gazette.)
MORNING DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21st.
Special to Herald.—The adjournment of the democratic members of Congress, to-night, transacted no important business.

Gen. Auger made a trip to-day on the railroad as far as Bull Run, for the purpose of inspecting the road and providing against raids by the enemy. The bridge were found in good condition. Measures were adopted which will doubtless prevent another descent being made upon the line within this department. Guerrillas and small bands of rebel cavalry still infest the country beyond Manassas, and depredations upon government property between that point and the Appomattock are of frequent occurrence.

No evidence is given here to the dispatch stating that Longstreet's force had been surrounded and Longstreet killed. Government has received nothing contradictory of such a statement, although in direct communication with Gen. Foster.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21st.
Special to the Times.—A letter received here to-day, from a distinguished officer of the fleet off Charleston, says: So far as visible the only obstructions in Charleston harbor are a double line of piles across the channel, and from Fort Pinkney to middle ground, and from there to Fort Johnson. There is an opening of about twenty yards, the writer thinks, the obstacles can be easily removed by the monitors.

The Missouri question has received its settlement. Rosecrans will be sent to St. Louis, and Curtis to Kansas, displacing Ewing.

REBELS DESTROYED THE POTOMAC, December 21, 1863.
Special to the World.—At the present time the Army of the Potomac is in the same position it has been since it crossed the Rappahannock. An order to move for better quarters is expected, especially as the roads which in a few days are rendered almost impassable, are now frozen hard. As far as we can judge the rebels have not changed their position. Our men have made for themselves most comfortable quarters impervious to frost or snow.

It was stated in a despatch, Saturday, that the rebel cavalry destroyed two bridges over Bull Run. This is not exactly so. They appeared in some force, attacked our guards, and set fire to one of the bridges, but the fire was extinguished, and the rebels left without doing any material damage.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21st.
Special to Tribune.—The arrangement by which all matters connected with the exchange of prisoners have been turned over to Gen. Butler will be permanent. Gen. Albrecht, who has hitherto been conducting this exchange, has been ordered to report to him.

A list of three boats was to leave Point Lookout to-day for the City Point, with 1,000 prisoners on board, in charge of Gen. Butler, in exchange of whom he will offer to receive 1,000 of our prisoners now suffering in Richmond.

Seventy-five of Baltimore who still have direct communication with the south, profess to have information that Lee and his army is to winter at or near Hanover Court House. The troops already there have commenced the construction of winter quarters.

The rumor that Surgeon Gen. Hammond had been mustered out of service is incorrect.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 22d.
A messenger from the governor and legislature of Kentucky left Frankfort yesterday for Washington, to ask the President to postpone the draft until corrections are made in the enrollment papers.

Gen. Knibb, recently in command at Little Rock, passed through Indianapolis yesterday for Washington. He represents immense Union meetings are being held in all portions of the state, causing without reserve all the news of the administration for the suppression of the rebellion, recommending that a state convention be called for re-organizing the state government without slavery.

Nothing later from Knoxville. The great sanitary fair opened yesterday, and is a complete success. The most ample arrangements have been made by the chairman of the committee on reception of visitors to care for all persons who may visit the fair.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22d.
Flour firm, in good demand. Wheat steady at 1.46-1.50. Chicago spring 1.47-1.51. Milwaukee corn 1.56-1.60 winter p. Oats shade firmer. Pork firm. Lard firmer 11-12 1/2. Stocks irregular, fair business. Gold 52 1/2, silver 81.

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 19th.
Flour demand improving, and market 10c higher. Wheat declined, one half cent. Dressed hogs; receipts 1601 head, market unchanged. Sales of 77 head divided on 200, at 60c-61c. Oats in store 60c. Corn held at 60c-61c.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22d.

A few mornings since, we were relating to our family the fact of a friend having found upon his doorstep a fine little male infant, whom he adopted, when one of the olive branches remarked: "Pa, dear, it'll be his stepson, won't it?" We thought it would, decidedly.

The authorities of a number of towns in Massachusetts propose to fill their quotas of volunteers by recruiting contrabands from Virginia and other border States, and arrangements to this end have in several cases nearly reached completion.

The largest locomotive in the United States, it is not in the world, has just been built for the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company. It has twelve driving wheels, and weighs more than 100,000 pounds.

Why are makers of the Armstrong gun the most dishonest men in service? Because they rifle all the guns, forgo all the materials and steel all gun-breeches they can.

The total number of deaths in Chicago for the last eleven months is 3,215.

President Lincoln is said to have a good joke upon all applications for office. He says he has but one vacant place, and that is the command of the Army of the Potomac. All decline that, and depart for home satisfied that the President has made them the best offer in his power.

A Pleasant Country.
The following may be a private epistle from a young man, formerly of this city, to his parents here. We publish it as illustrative of life in that section of the Southern Confederacy:
BENTON, Ark., Nov. 22d.
MY DEAR PARENTS.—As you will notice from my date I have been on the wing again, and am now quietly realizing at this point, where I arrived last Wednesday evening. Benton is a city about as big as a pocket handkerchief, situated, lying and being twenty-five miles south of Little Rock on the Arkansas road, and is the outpost, there being no forces below this point, and is dull, oh how dull, you can have no conception, nothing in the world to break the monotony of eating and sleeping, except the constant liability to an attack, and that has been threatened so long that it generates no renewed excitement. Only when the pickets are fired upon, (which occurs almost nightly) the command turns out under arms. "Boots and saddles" when sounded, unexpectedly after night, of course brings more or less excitement for a short time, but even that gets to be a bore when no result follows the calling out of the men.
My stay here, as well as in this section of the country, bids fair to be short. We have been advised, though not officially, that the department has been divided, and Capt. Clonry, late assistant superintendent of the department of the Missouri, ordered to Little Rock to assume command, and he is expected by every body. This, upon his arrival, will relieve us from duty, as we belong to the department of Missouri. There are but three of us down here, and aside from the fact that we are all heartily sick of the miserable country, everything else is unpleasant. We are too far away from everywhere, hear nothing, know nothing of what is going on outside, and in six months time would degenerate into perfect specimens of —
It costs about three times as much to live here as it does in the city of St. Louis, so that in a pecuniary point of view we gained nothing by the change. Another item: We draw, or are supposed to draw, our pay at St. Louis, but leaving ahead of the arrival of funds, we have drawn no pay for three months, and can't stand the pressure. Last, but not least by any means, I, individually, am constantly suffering from the chills or remittent fever which although it readily yields for the time being. Since I left Helena, I have not been confined to my bed over a day at a time, yet is always on hand at the slightest provocation. If a person once gets that infernal malaria at Helena fairly into his system, he cannot expect himself in the slightest get wet, take cold or sub his body, but down on your back you go, ready for 10 or 12 grains blue mass and 30 or 40 of quinine before you get up; and there seems to be no permanent preventive while you stay in the country. I've got enough of it and propose to return to America where christianity and creature comforts are supposed to prevail, both articles being very scarce, even to entire exclusion, down here. If I remain and accompany a forward movement Texas-ward, it may improve, and it may be worse, and I shall not chance it, but get back while I have a good opportunity and a valid excuse.
If Capt. Clonry brings any one with him that can relieve me, I hope to be off in the course of a couple of weeks; if he does not, I shall probably have to remain until some one can be ordered down from St. Louis to do so, which will take a month or six weeks. Do my letters reach you regularly? I have written you once every two weeks since leaving but have received but one from you, leaving a large margin in my favor.

MORNING DISPATCHES.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 21st.
Special to Herald.—The adjourned session of the democratic members of Congress, to-night, transacted no important business.
Gen. Anger made a trip today on the railroad as far as Bull Run, for the purpose of inspecting the road and providing against raids by the enemy. The bridge was found in good condition. Measures were adopted which would doubtless prevent another descent being made upon the line within this department. Guerrillas and small squads of rebel cavalry still infest the country beyond Manassas, and depredations upon government property between that point and the Rappahannock are of frequent occurrence.
No credence is given here to the dispatch stating that Longstreet's force had been surrounded and Longstreet killed. Government has received nothing confirmatory of such a statement, although in direct communication with Gen. Foster.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 21st.
Special to the Times.—A letter received here to-day, from a distinguished officer of the late of Charleston says: So far as visible the only obstructions in Charleston harbor are a double line of piles across the channel, and from there to Fort Johnson. There is an opening of about twenty yards, the writer thinks, the obstacles can be easily removed by the monitors.
The Missouri question has received its settlement. Rosecrans will be sent to St. Louis, and Curtis to Kansas, displacing Ewing.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

December 21, 1863.
Special to the World.—At the present time the Army of the Potomac is in the same position it has been since it recrossed the Rappahannock. An order to move for better quarters is expected, especially as the roads which in a few days are rendered almost impassable, are now frozen hard. As far as we can judge the rebels have not changed their position. One man here made for themselves most comfortable quarters in a house of straw.
It was stated in a despatch, Saturday, that the rebel cavalry destroyed two bridges over Bull Run. This is not exactly so. They appeared in some force, attacked our guards, and set fire to one of the bridges, but the fire was extinguished, and the rebels left without doing any material damage.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 21st.

Special to Tribune.—The arrangement by which all matters connected with the exchange of prisoners have been turned over to Gen. Butler will be permanent. Gen. Meredith, who has hitherto been conducting this exchange, has been ordered to report to him.
A flag of truce was to leave Point Lookout to-day for City Point, with 1,000 prisoners on board, in charge of Gen. Butler, in exchange of whom he will offer to receive 1,000 of our prisoners now suffering in Richmond.

Successors of Baltimore who still have direct communication with the south, profess to have information that Lee and his army is to winter at or near Hanover Court House. The troops already there have commenced the construction of winter quarters.
The rumor that Surgeon Gen. Hammond had been mustered out of service is incorrect.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 22.
A messenger from the governor and legislature of Kentucky left Frankfort yesterday for Washington, to ask the President to postpone the draft until corrections are made in the enrollment papers.

Gen. Kimball, recently in command at Little Rock, passed through Indianopolis yesterday for Washington. He represents immense Union meetings are being held in all portions of the state, endorsing without reserve all the acts of the administration for the suppression of the rebellion, recommending that a state convention be called for re-organizing the state government without delay.

Nothing is heard from Knoxville. The great sanitary fair opened yesterday, and is a complete success. The most anxious arrangements have been made by the chairman of the committee on reception of visitors to care for all persons who may visit the fair.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.
NEW YORK, Dec. 22.

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 19.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.
SENATE.—Mr. Howe submitted a joint resolution for the relief of the state of Wisconsin.

"You'll break my heart," as the oak said to the hatched.

If you want to get into a fat office, hire yourself to a soap-boiler, we were relating to our family the fact of a friend having found upon his doorstep a fine little misle infant, whom he adopted, when one of the branches remarked: "Pa, dear, it'll be his stepson, won't it?" We thought it would, decidedly.

The authorities of a number of towns in Massachusetts propose to fill their quotas of volunteers by recruiting contrabands from Virginia and other Border States, and arrangements to this end have in several cases nearly reached completion.
The largest locomotive in the United States, it is said, has just been built for the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company. It has twelve driving wheels, and weighs more than 100,000 pounds.

Why are makers of the Armstrong gun the most dishonest men in service? Because they rifle the guns, for the materials and steel all gun-breaches they can.
The total number of deaths in Chicago for the last eleven months is 2,245.
President Lincoln is said to have a good joke upon all applications for office. He says he has but one vacant place, and that is the command of the Army of the Potomac. All decline that, and depart for home satisfied that the President has made them the best offer in his power.
